

Achi St. George Church

Cultural sights Guria

Achi Church is located on an artificially elevated hill. Achistskali is surrounded with high, solidly built stone wall. Presumably, it was fulfilling a function of a castle too. Church is a square hall type construction. Its windows and cross on the eastern façade are covered with picturesque carvings which are one of the best in whole Guria. Church is not spacious. The temple was built quite earlier and its paintings are quite remarkable too. Near Achi Monastery there flows a river called “Achi” too which flows from the mountain and is very pure. This river is a good way to relax and spend time in summer for tourists.
