Tour Description

Important information

- Metekhi is a historic area on a rocky hill in Avlabari. Because of the location, on the territory of the city it was populated first. Metekhi Cathedral of the Nativity of the Virgin, which is built on the edge of the cliff and allegedly merged with it, watches from there the whole city. During the day the cathedral is illuminated in different ways, and its silhouette creates a wonderful landscape against the sky. The walls of the cathedral are like a continuation of a steep rock and, reflected in the Kura, enrich the picture of a city surrounded by mountains.
- Old Tbilisi - the historical part of Tbilisi, that part and settlements of the city, which were called "Tiflis" until 1936. In these areas, to this day, there are small old wooden balcony houses, colored gates, and this all transfers the visitor to the "Tiflis".
- Narikala - a fortress, without which Tbilisi can not be imagined. This mysterious fortress protects Tbilisi from the 4th century AD. And the views with all the advantages of the city, which open from there, fills the visitor with impressions.
- Abanotubani (bathhouse area) is one of the oldest districts of Tbilisi on the right bank of the Kura River. The name is associated with the famous baths, built on hot sulfur springs. Everyone knows that it is with these hot springs that the name of the city of Tbilisi ("Tbili" - warm) is related.
